

Steve & Annette Economides

America's MoneySmart FAMILY

NY TIMES BEST SELLING AUTHORS, NATIONAL SPEAKERS, MEDIA PERSONALITIES, FAMILY FINANCE EXPERTS, SPOKESCOUPLE

Steve & Annette Economides are NY Times Best Selling Authors, parents of five grown children and Family Finance Experts. They are passionate about living the frugal lifestyle and sharing the fun, laughter and freedom they've experienced.

This has led them to write three books: America's Cheapest Family gets You Right on the Money; Cut Your Grocery Bill in Half; and The MoneySmart Family System – Teaching Financial Independence to Children of Every Age.

Steve & Annette's enthusiasm about household finances has earned them appearances on Good Morning America, Today Show, Dr. Phil, CNN, Fox News, 20/20, Nightline, Yahoo Finance, People Magazine and more. Their message of Financial Hope is reaching millions around the globe.

Steve and Annette speak all over the country at family conferences, banks, credit unions, libraries, medical associations, universities, financial literacy events, MOPs groups and more. They are regular guests on many nationally syndicated radio programs, podcasts and Google hangouts. They are often quoted in personal finances articles in newspapers, magazines and the web.

Through their numerous national and international media appearances, books, resources, website, blog and social media, they continue to inspire others toward financial freedom. Their speaking style is down to earth and easy to understand. Take their advice and you'll have more laughter, better family times and much more money in the bank. Won't you join them on a journey to see your wildest financial dreams come true?

ENDORSEMENTS

We loved having you at VHE! Our attendees really enjoyed you both, saying things like: "Very practical advice;" "Great ideas, interesting, very helpful resources!" "I liked the couple-type (duo) presentation;" "I learned some awesome tips;" "They kept my attention THE WHOLE TIME;" "They were very easy to listen to."

Micki Moeller – VHE Convention Speaker Coordinator

Steve and Annette were an inspiration to the families in San Diego. Their practical approach to household finances encouraged our attendees with realistic presentations on effective and efficient ways to operate a home. Their stories clearly illustrate their knowledge of the average American household and their humor makes this education a pleasure.

John and Laura Wojnicki, CFS Convention Coordinators

Steve and Annette were engaging and very helpful in sharing tools to help build a MoneySmart family with our meeting attendees. They offered sound and easy to implement ideas for the entire family.

Teri Morrison, Assistant Executive Director, AZ Hemophilia Association

Steve & Annette are a dynamic duo and their message was enormously empowering to the "Under Resourced" and everyone (including students, faculty, professional and community workers) who attended our Health, Nutrition and Poverty Conference. Just incorporating a few of their ideas offered insight on how we could all save enormous amounts of money while eating delicious, nourishing food. Their whole life is an inspiration!

Karyl Rickard, PhD, RD, FADA Indiana University / Purdue University

Steve and Annette did a great job as keynote speakers at our annual conference. Their approach was genuine, their stories authentic, and their style highly dynamic. The audience learned a lot, laughed a lot, and left inspired. Steve's and Annette's presentation was well organized, and they kept the audience engaged through multi-media, humor, and a very relatable style. Thank you for helping us make our conference a success!

Zuzana Brochu, Vermont JumpStart/Vice President, People's United Bank

For more than twenty years, my wife and I have seen how Steve and Annette Economides's down-to-earth, creative, fun, and brilliantly wise lessons on money have blessed their own family and helped thousands of other families as well.
